The Bre Gregg Band

BIO: Bre Gregg passionately delivers old-timey Blues, Jazz and Soul with her own, dynamic modern style. Influence by the likes of Nina Simone, Billie Holiday, Bonnie Raitt, Ray Charles and Norah Jones, her sultry style is displayed in her debut album, "on the wind." Inheriting her love of performance from a long line of musicians, Bre was born singing and has never stopped. With stops in opera and musical theater along the way, Bre has found her niche and isn't going anywhere. One thing is for sure, this girl can sing and her blend of tenderness, fire and soul will leave you wanting more.

PRESS: "Portland's Bre Gregg has called Montana and New York home, but her heart wanders everywhere, encompassing the worlds of jazz and blues, not to mention classical music. Gifted with a not-too-thick, not-too-thin alto, she truly uses her voice like an instrument, something a lot of singers claim to do but few do with complete control. Listening to her is like hearing a classy horn player who realizes it's not what you're saying but how you say it that makes people really want to put down their salad forks and listen." - Rob Cullivan, Portland Tribune (Jan 27, 2011)

DISCOGRAPHY: On the Wind—Released 2010

INSTRUMENTATION: The Bre Gregg Band features world-class musicians, who embrace their audiences with the heartfelt beauty of a skillfully-played ballad as easily as they entice them to their feet with a rocking blues number. Instrumentation includes Vocals, keyboard, guitar, bass and drums. For larger shows, violin and horns are added. For smaller shows, a trio is available.
